In Dedication to John Wesley "Pete" Magann

What can a man accomplish in a few short years? "Pete" Magann helped all of us to answer that question from his first day as Director of Admissions at Coastal Carolina College. His tireless efforts in recruiting students was in great measure responsible for the four-year status which Coastal has achieved. Mere increase in size means nothing, however, without human intelligence and sensitivity to guide it. With this in mind, we lovingly dedicate this book to John Wesley "Pete" Magann.

Seniors — The End of the Beginning

We started out with hopes and ambitions and have now reached that final year. We are Seniors, preparing to leave Coastal Carolina and mold our own futures. What an adventure this has been! We have learned so much and accumulated so many memories. We have studied new facets of education, have been faced with many decisions, and have looked for guidance to get this far. Now that we are here, our efforts are rewarded. As we leave Coastal, we will take with us these past years of growing, of understanding, of hard work, and a better awareness of our selves.

Underclassmen — On Their Way Up

We are beginning our years at Coastal with many mixed feelings. For many of us it has been an experience just to learn of all the opportunities that can be within our reach. We are beginning to realize the hard work that is ahead of us and the decisions we will have to make as we decide which paths we wish to take. We are learning to adapt ourselves to Coastal's way of life. We are meeting new friends who, too, share our thoughts. If we apply ourselves, and work towards that all-important goal, we will one day become Seniors. We must march forward through the coming years.

Competition Tough for Lady Chants

Women's basketball, under the direction of Violet Meade, moved into its second year with the signing of sophomore Cathy Nance and Kimmie McKinnon to grant in aids, another first for in Coastal Carolina sports.

Other returnees included Kay Barnhill, Anne Perritt, and Denise Jentte.

Rose Norton, a transfer from Frances Marion headed a list of new additions to the team.

Freshman prospects Pansy Lewis, Wendy Siceloff and Terry Williams, along with Jr. Suzanne Gates gave Coastal a bright future, despite a slow start.

This years women's basketball team is looking for a good season. Competition is tough but the Lady Chants are anticipating having a much improved second season.

Tryouts for the team were held from Nov. 24-Dec. 5. Out of seventeen women the squad was cut to ten.

Denise Jenerette, Kay Barnhill, Cathy Nance, Kimmie McKinnon, and Anne Perritt are returning lettermen. Rose Norton played for Francis Marion College last year and had come to play with the Chants during the 1975-76 season.

New additions also include Suzanne Gates, Pansy Lewis, Wendy Siceloff, and Terri Williams. Also new are our two managers Gayle Kyzer and Cassandra Graham.

The team is participating in a tough circuit training program to build endurance and speed. The squad will be in shape for the opening game against Claflin College on Jan. 6 at Coastal. With Your Support the Women's Basketball Team Can Go A Long Way Toward A Successful Season.

Women's Tennis Participates in State Tournament

Women's athletics is just in its second year and a member of AIAW (Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women) continues to grow with the total sports program.

Tennis was no exception, Stella Wood took over the reigns of head coach and welcomed back four lettermen and several newcomers.

This season the women will play in the Converse College Tennis Day and the State Tournament as part of a schedule that calls for five home and five away matches.

The 1975-76 basketball team started out with new faces, a new head coach and one of the roughest schedules in NAIA District 6.

When Coastal Carolina became a four year college two years ago, the school was among the unknown.

The uniqueness of the Fishing Team did its part to put Coastal on the map.

While this was going an athlete was doing his part too. He was doing it with a fiery style of play, minute by minute hustle on the court, and pure shooting ability. That athlete, Howard White, has spread the good word that Coastal athletics are in the upswing.

Howard a 5 ft. 11 in. guard and a NAIA All-American candidate when the season began wrote and rewrote Coastal Carolina basketball records during his two year tenure.

Head Coach — Russ Bergman, Assistant Coach — Robbie Hicklin.

Russ Bergman New Head Coach

Newcomers Ronnie Love, Frank White, David Brooks, David Melton, John Brunson, and Charles Koon Hendrix joined NAIA All-American candidates Howard White, senior guard Lonnie Chestnut, Pete "Where's CALVERT" Eckert, Ken "Moose" Herrington, and John McGuire to bring an excited brand of basketball to Kimbrel Gym.

In the first half of the season, two overtimes and two double overtimes including a double overtime 69-64 victory over the district leading Newberry Indians brought sparks of school spirit and larger home crowds.

The chants stepped into the last part of the season with a David and Goliath image developing.

Baseball Team Travels Through Florida

Nicknamed the Hotdogs, the 1976 baseball team looked to be the best ever, but so, in fact, was the schedule with the likes of South Carolina, Miami of Ohio, Eastern Conn., Maryland, George Mason University, and UNC Wilmington on one of the top schedules in the two Carolinas.

A Florida trip with Jacksonville University, St. Leo College, Eckerd College, South Florida and a stop in Georgia to play Georgia Southern. One of the nation's best college teams gave coach John Vrooman's cagers a monumental task.

The team co-captains are Al 'Chico' Anche and Steve 'Bear' Williams headed a long list of returning players along with Steve 'Red' Pearson, voted most valuable player.

A freshman and sophomore laden women's volleyball team played to a disappointing 3-14 record but despite this women's sports and volleyball continue to grow. Coach Violet Meade says of the sport, "Varsity volleyball is a rapid growing sport in this area."

For Coastal, performing against established teams, the road has been rough, but with only one junior and no seniors the growth should be rapid indeed.

One of the high points of the year was an invitation to play in the West Georgia College Invitational Tournament.

Tennis Team Splits Matches With College of Charleston

Dr. Richard Dame welcomed back Greg Hawley, a highly regarded freshman, gave the team additional talent as they prepared for their year under the NAIA District 6 insignia.

A fall schedule saw Coastal tennis split two matches with the college of Charleston, one of the most respected tennis teams in District 6.

Rounding out the squad, is a host of newcomers, including Williams "Twig" Chestnut, Keith Skipper, and Delan Stevens, gave the Chants increased depth as they readied for the toughest schedule in the school's brief history.

Tom Cooke Takes Over Helm of Golf Team

Tom Cooke took over the helm of Coastal golf this fall and along with Teaching coach Jimmy D'Angelo expects to build Coastal Carolina golf into one of the outstanding golfing schools in the South.

In the fall the team showed a lot of potential with a fourth place in the Elon College Tournament and a third place in the Methodist College Tournament. "We're pleased to have former golf pro Jimmy D'Angelo as a teaching coach," Tom Cooke said. "He gives of his time with any problems they might have. As far as recruiting goes he gives us a shot in the arm." With close to thirty golf courses in this area Coastal Carolina has tremendous potential for growth into a solid program.

Campus Union Improves Coastal's Social Life

Campus Union has been mainly responsible for organizing and obtaining entertainment for the campus. They also started a one-hour radio broadcast from a local radio station. Campus Union has brought guest speakers and musicians to the campus as well as sponsor dances at the Myrtle Beach Convention Center.

The Band Never Came

A dance was held in the fall at the National Guard Armory in Conway, South Carolina. It was arranged for all the Coastal Carolina students that wished to attend. Unfortunately the expected band did not show up for the occasion, although the students seemed to have had a nice time anyway.

The band was to be here.

High School Students Gather at Coastal for College Day

One day during the late fall, the seniors of neighboring high school's drive to Coastal to attend lectures in the Kimbel Gymnasium of the William Brice Building about the local colleges. Representatives from these colleges pass out pamphlets while they inform the students of important information pertaining to their particular college.

This presentation provides the seniors with many answers concerning the types of colleges in South and North Carolina, and what they have to offer. It often helps the student in choosing a college as well as benefiting the college as which is being represented.

Some colleges participating in this program are Clemson, Winthrop, and Coker Colleges.

Ski Trip

On January 4, 1976, a group of students and persons from the surrounding area left for three days of skiing and plenty of fun. The group returned on January 8, 1976, exhausted but full of stories to tell their friends who were unable to go on the SGA sponsored ski trip.

Summer Theatre Presents: "Godspell"

The production of GODSPELL (which was adapted from the gospel of St. Matthew) was well received throughout the season by the public. The cast members' spirited and sometimes painful acting provided an evening of inspiring and often humorous entertainment.

. . . and "Cabaret"

Coastal Carolina's Summer Theatre is still going strong at their new home in Myrtle Beach Junior High's gymnasium. The gym was transformed into a well lit stage with air conditioning and ample parking spaces provided for the public's comfort.

The theatre groups' enthusiastic and talented members provide an evening of uninterrupted entertainment for the curious and invite everyone to come and enjoy what they have worked so hard for to entertain you.

Cabaret, a love story set in Berlin during the Nazi rise to power was a very moving musical with humor interlaced throughout the play. The starring role was played by Helen Halsey as Sally Bowles.

Consisting mainly of Anthropology majors, our club activities center around Archeology, the reconstruction of. We have taken field trips to excavation sites, spent a weekend in Washington, D.C. at the Smithsonian Institute and are planning future trips of interest. Under the direction of Dr. Reinhold Engelmayer, a majority of the club members helped complete an excavation site in Georgetown County.

Fishing Club

Faculty members of the Fishing Club competed in a benefit watch with students, sailing out of Little River.

Our guests enjoyed the fishing. Breut Kirk, a friend from Yale we'll remember.

The second annual Coastal Carolina Invitational, run by the Fishing Club, brought anglers from Yale, Western Ontario, and the Carolinas for a watch and seminar. The scene is the Gulf Stream. That's our fishing coach with the hats and boots.

— Coastal Carolina College Fishing Club —

Ever hear of Coastal's fishing team? Readers of the New York TIMES, Charlotte OBSERVER, THE STATE, SOUTH CAROLINA WILDLIFE, and SANDLAPPER have. So have radio and television audiences in Canada and throughout the United States, for the Fishing Club has represented Coastal in international competition and hosted its own fishing match and seminar.

Besides promoting the sport fishing in our area of South Carolina, our fishermen (and women) have cooperated with the South Carolina Wildlife and Marine Resources Dept. in the cooperative mackerel tagging program. Over a quarter of the kings tagged in the program last year were accounted for by Coastal students and faculty.

The fishing club has brought students and faculty together for friendly competition, too, both in deep sea and surf fishing. And during the winter the club invites all students and faculty to compete in trout fishing from the famous piers of Myrtle Beach.

Members of the club have been accused of being promotion minded. If that means promoting the great fishing off the nearby Carolina Coast and the contribution that Coastal's anglers and marine scientists can make, then the students and faculty of the Fishing Club plead guilty.

They enjoy their work!!

In Nova Scotia, Coastal anglers helped represent the U.S.A. in international competition. Team captain Otto Strong holds the flag, as Skip Opalko, Tom Wienken, and Rick Wall pause before a day of tuna fishing.

In the fall, Coastal's anglers helped tag king mackerel for the state of South Carolina.

Back home in Conway at 1:00 a.m. a few days later, team members show off the Nova Scotia trophy they helped the U.S.A. win for the first time.

Skip hoists a king mackerel for Otto Strong . . .

And marine biologist Dr. Richard Moore tags it. Over twenty-five percent of the king mackerel tagged in the South Carolina program last year were tagged by members of the Fishing Club.

International Club

Since Coastal Carolina became a four year institution, members of the French and German Clubs felt the need of an International organization on the campus. In the fall of 1974, through the efforts and initiative of Steve Nagle and his co-workers, the International Club was born. The purpose is to foster international understanding on the campus and in the community.

Every year in the month of October, the club has been celebrating an Oktoberfest with authentic German food and music. We also celebrate an annual banquet serving foods from all different nations. Professor Nagle kicked off our first meeting with a film on West Germany. Later in the year Dr. Saxena showed slides and exhibits from France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy and India. This year our Oktoberfest also fell on Austrian Independence Day, and a presentation was made by Dr. Engelmayer. In November the International Club sponsored Sharon Fox in the Miss Coastal Carolina Beauty Pageant. At our second annual banquet Debbie Garrett and Regina played folksongs from Germany, England, and Spain.

The members of the organizing committee are Professors Nagle, Saxena, Engelmayer, Selwa, and Albiniak along with Sharon Fox, Linda Potter, Sunny Pearson, and Elanor Schiller.

The International Club boasts a membership of over sixty students and several faculty. Membership is always open to students and faculty with a nominal fee charged for dues.

PEM Club Paints Shelter Home

Randy "Ronald McDonald" Owens and Jack Hancock discuss possibilities of raffling a rifle.

The Physical Education Major Club primarily acts as a service organization to the campus and to the community. The club attempts to bring about an awareness of the importance of physical education through varying activities. In the spring of '75 the PEM Club assisted with the Special Olympics held on Coastal's campus; and with the renovation of the Children's Shelter Home located in the Conway area. Early in the spring semester of '76 the club helped construct a playground for preschoolers in West Conway.

History Club

A highlight of any Coastal history student would have to be meeting at the home of professor James Branham for history club. It meets every other Wednesday and good times were had by all who attended. The evening starts with a cook-out or New Year's day feast; then a little pool is played before the discussion starts. These discussions ranged from "who in your mind were the five greatest presidents" to "the middle east and oil" or maybe "Kissinger's role in American politics compared to former Secretaries of State." Professor Branham as moderator kept things from getting out of hand and always steered the group, it seemed, into more stimulating discussion.

First, and foremost, I would like to recognize those persons who contributed a great amount of time and effort to the successful completion of the 1976 Atheneum. Our finances were handled through the expertise of "Mr. Business," Robert Loyd. Special thanks to Ken Arnette, our photographer, for his prodigious effort in supplying photographs. To the rest of the staff who struggled through the exasperating and often frustrating days, I thank you too for seeing it through.

Additional credit for the book's success goes to Steve Taylor for sports copy; Rodney Dodson for the color photography; Simon Spain for photographic assistance; Charity Rabon and Dena Chesnutt for copy assistance; to all the faculty and students who contributed to the book; to the Sun News; and, lastly, to the South Carolina Bicentennial Commission.

Koastal Klowns

Here comes the Klowns! The Koastal Klowns, of course! These colorful personages show up in the strangest places. For example; the Christmas party for under-privileged children was sponsored by the Business Club and the Koastal Klowns shared the limelight with Santa. The Klowns also appeared at several Halloween carnivals in the local grammar schools. And, of course, the Klowns can be seen in any Christmas or Sun-Fun parade of which Coastal's has a part. High-stepping with the band or making children laugh are only a few of Koastal 'Klowns' duties.
